SHERIFF'S SUPPORT GROUP OF ALTADENA

You Can Help!

At the beginning of 1998, L. A. County Sheriff Sherman Block announced his intent to reopen the Altadena Sheriff's Station as a full-service station, that is, a station with a Captain as its commander.

This is great news to Altadenans. The station will be returned to its former status, and more, with the onset of new technologies and equipment.

You can help by joining as a SSGA supporter. Your support contributions go to helping us both keep the Sheriff's Station supplied with non-budget items as well as maintaining a community awareness through programs and information.

Our quarterly newsletter, The Informer, is our greatest source of public information on station status and support group activities. Every supporter is an automatic subscriber to The Informer.

What does SSGA do?

- Keeps the community informed on the activities of law enforcement in Altadena
- Raises money to supply the Sheriff's Station with major and minor items required to provide better protection for our community that are not readily available during budget crunches.

Here are a few items we helped provide:

- Bicycles for our bike patrol. These are the latest in stealth-type bikes which the deputies use as a special community patrol devices.
- A trailer and portable power generator for the COPS program. SSGA helped direct the funds received from specific donors for just such purchases.
- Computers, digital cameras, and color printers to help with criminal identification.

SSGA's successes...

...have been great over the past year. We have been able to raise more money, hold more community events and purchase more materials for our station than ever before in the history of SSGA or its predecessor, The Friends (FASS).

Where FASS was the hero in keeping the station from being closed completely, SSGA has gone the distance in promoting a community appeal to have the Altadena Station returned to its former status as a full-service station.

The community response has been tremendous, but the job is far from complete. We are now looking at a possible three year project in upgrading the station to take on its renewed role in the community. SSGA will be there every step of the way to be of help where it can and to keep the community informed.

Your support will help. Join SSGA as a supporter today and become part of what makes this community a great place in which to live.
